FOREWORD

Our country has just emerged victoriously from its bloodiest war in history. Everyone devoted his time and effort to the winning of the war. Now that hostilities have ceased, everyone is expected to work just as hard for the preservation of lasting peace. With this in mind, we of the Annual Staff have chosen for our theme, the change from war to lasting peace. This being our theme, our feature picture, Mr. Boyd welcoming Mr. Stewart Cox back from the service, is typical of the change being made by millions of people.

DEDICATION

MILDRED A. HAWKE

The nineteen hundred and forty-six Reveville Annual is respectfully dedicated to Miss Mildred Hawke, member of the English department of Newark High School.

Miss Hawke received her Ph. B. degree from Denison University. She was associated with the Etna High School and Newton Township School in St. Louisville, Ohio, before coming to Newark High School in 1918.

In addition to her teaching, Miss Hawke has been very active in Girl Reserve work, having served as adviser to this organization for the past nineteen years. Her contributions to our school system and student body are greatly appreciated.

Miss Hawke plans to retire in the near future. She will continue to make her home with her sisters in St. Louisville.

IN MEMORIAM

LIEUTENANT COLONEL J. HOBART MILLER

Faculty members and students greatly mourn the passing of Lieutenant Colonel J. Hobart Miller who for nineteen years had been a well-known person in Newark school life.

Mr. Miller first came to Newark High School in 1926, at which time he taught science; later, in 1928, he became athletic coach. He then left high school and became commander of a Three-C's camp in Utah. He came back to Newark in 1939 and was teacher of science and mathematics at Central Junior High School. The fall of 1940, he was appointed principal of Roosevelt Junior High School until June, 1941.

Mr. Miller was called into the service on October 6, 1941, as a captain in the infantry and was assigned to the reception center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

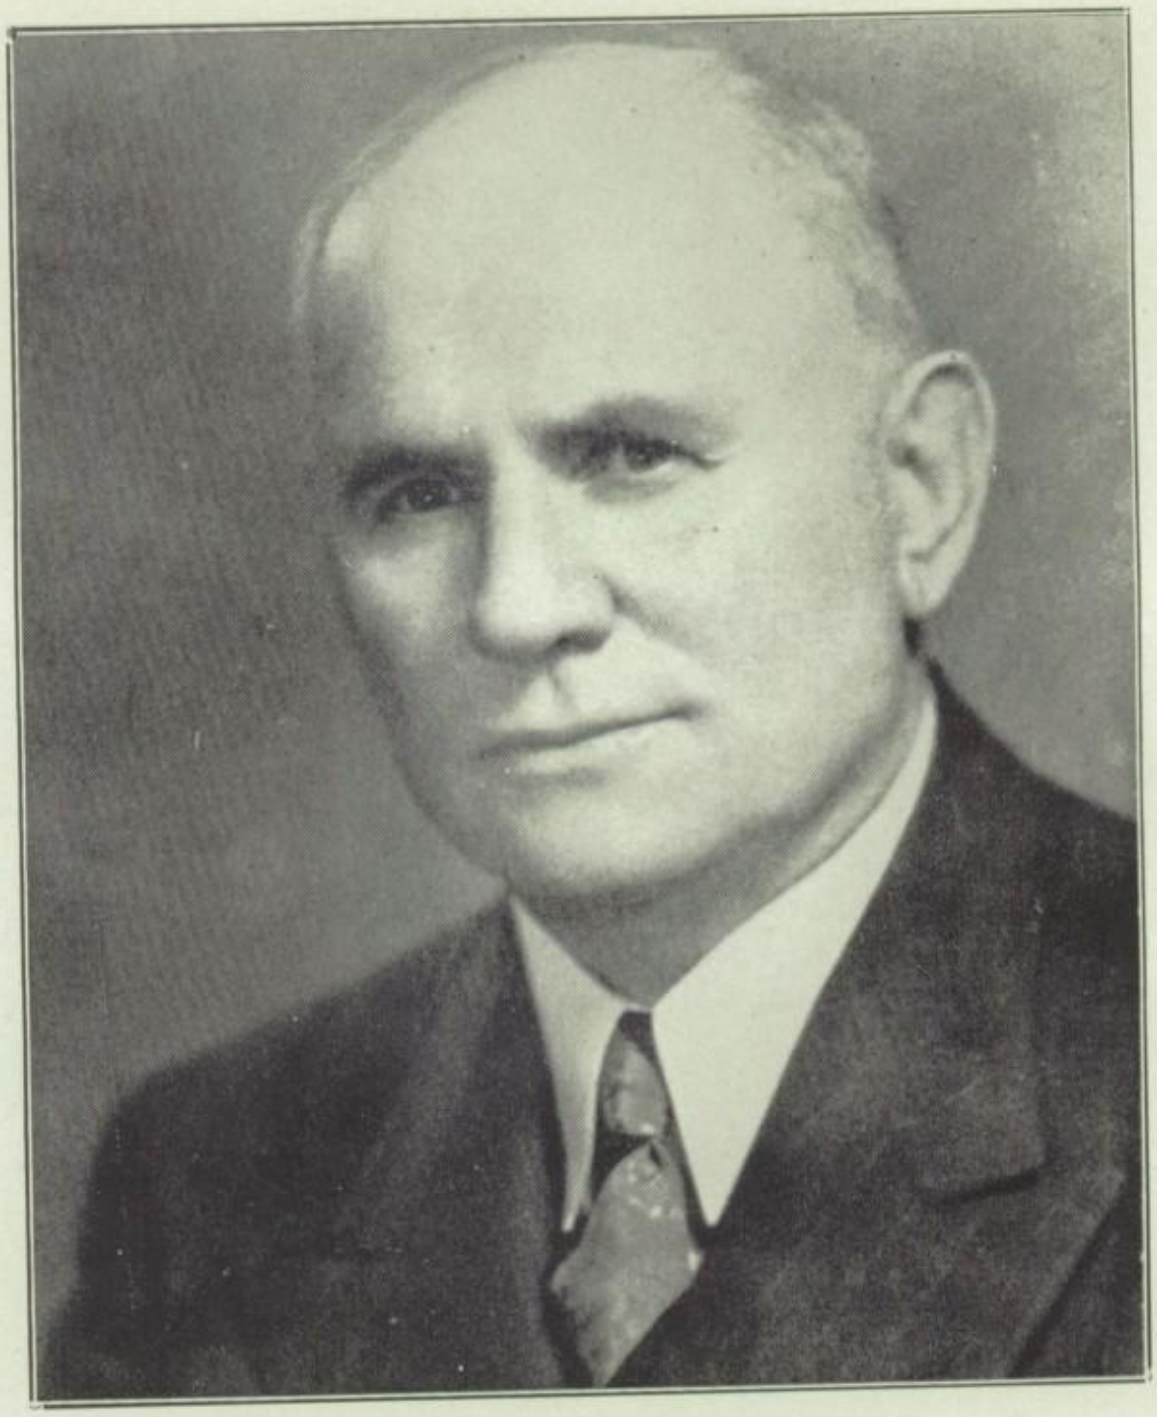
In September, 1942, he was promoted to the rank of major and became commanding officer of the Fifth Service Command Motor Pool at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

In February, 1944, he was advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel and was assigned to the 1513 Service Unit, Service Command Ordnance Shop A, District 3, Columbus, Ohio, as the commanding officer, which post he held at the time of his death.

Colonel Miller died suddenly in a physician's office in Columbus, Ohio, June 27, 1945, a few minutes after collapsing while playing baseball with the Bexley High School Dad's Club. His death was attributed to coronary thrombosis.

Mr. Miller will be remembered by all for his friendliness, his love of clean fun, and his interest in athletics to which he contributed much to inspire good clean sportsmanship.

IN MEMORIAM



LLOYD G. MILLISOR

Mr. Lloyd G. Millisor, retired head of the Commercial Department of Newark High School, passed away in his home on West Church Street, November 3, 1945. News of his death was received with sincere regret by the faculty and students of Newark High School.

Mr. Millisor first taught in Madison, Indiana, but in 1906 he came to Newark High School as a teacher of commercial subjects and as coach of athletics. He retired in August, 1945.

Mr. Millisor enjoyed teaching bookkeeping and shorthand. He did much to improve the standards of the commercial department while he was its head. His greatest interest was in preparing the student for his work after graduation. His friendly manner and personal interest in each pupil resulted in the cooperation he received from his students and in the excellence of their preparation for the business world.

GLORIA LEE SMITH

July 15, 1929

December 23, 1945

Although she appeared to have recovered, Gloria, a member of the junior class, was taken from this life by complications developing from influenza. Because she was always pleasant and friendly, she is sadly missed by classmates, teachers, and all who knew her.

RETIRED

MR. JOSEPH PRIEST

It takes more than excellent teachers and intelligent pupils to make a superior school. Even the proverbial "log" has to be kept clean. It takes physical equipment, and this must be kept in good condition. Thus we pay honor to a man who for over a quarter of a century was custodian of the high school and who was obliged to look after every detail of the physical equipment so that the mental and spiritual could better flourish. This person, Mr. Joseph Priest, earned through retirement, a well-earned vacation, and both teachers and pupils wish for him many years of happiness.

The Newark High School Parent-Teachers Association showed increased interest and enthusiasm in the work of the unit for the year 1945-1946. The membership reached a total of three hundred seventy-one persons.

The Association helped promote the levy for the Newark Public Library, which failed, but will be voted on again at the next election. It has been especially interested in the school library and voted to buy a number of books needed both last year and this year. It contributed also to the Red Cross, Christmas Seals Fund, and to refilling the First Aid Kits of the school.

Mathematics

The importance of mathematics is greater today than ever before. The science of mathematics is an essential factor in war and peace alike. The purpose of mathematics is to teach students to think clearly and logically in the solving of practical problems.

The course today includes beginning algebra, advanced algebra, college algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry. Algebra is the branch of mathematics which treats of the relations and properties of quantity by means of letters and other symbols. Advanced algebra continues the study of this phase of mathematics where beginning algebra ended. College algebra deals with shorter methods of solving algebraic problems. It provides a basis for trigonometry, the highest form of mathematics taught in high school.

Plane geometry is the basis of high school mathematics. It deals mainly with figures of two dimensions, while solid geometry places emphasis on three dimensional figures. Trigonometry pertains to the relations between sides and angles of triangles.

In addition to the courses offered for college students, practical mathematics and business arithmetic are offered to students who are specializing in the industrial and commercial courses, respectively. These courses are set up with an eye to the practical application of mathematics to problems in the daily life of the ordinary individual.

The ability to reason sensibly is a mark of an American citizen. Furthermore, he must have the ability to vote intelligently; and the most important asset in voting is clear and logical thinking. Such thinking is inculcated in the study of mathematics.

Commercial Course

Well trained business people are needed more than ever before. Newark High School has a complete Commercial Course to offer any student interested in this field. This course consists of three year periods which enables a person to become more familiar with the business world.

The sophomore receives basic training for the business world. Included in his curriculum are salesmanship, economic geography, business mathematics, and English.

The junior receives special training in business English, bookkeeping, typing, stenography, and commercial law.

The senior specializes in advanced work of the Commercial Course. This final preparation which the student receives equips him for the position he desires to obtain after graduation.

When a student completes the Commercial Course, he is equipped with a fitting background for bookkeeping, stenography, and salesmanship, which is required for the business world.

Home Economics

The home economics work in high school is organized so that it will provide opportunity for desirable growth from year to year. All phases of home making advance each year and these phases or units are built around the interest, needs, purposes, and concerns of girls of high-school age.

The girls must be able to meet problems in many areas of home making, and this type of home economics provides training on the level of maturity at which the girls are living.

Emphasis in most of the units given in the sophomore year is placed on skills, techniques, and standards.

In the junior and senior years the girls are able to take up more technical details of nutrition, consumers' problems, and social and family relationships.

In clothing, emphasis is placed not so much on construction as on design, color, and appropriateness. Students study textiles, new and old, the repair and care of clothing, and the relation of the clothing budget to the total family expenditure.

In food study, nutrition is stressed from the standpoint of its importance to the well being of the girl herself as well as that of her family.

The family relationship unit is designed to help the girl with her present and future family living.

The care of the home economics program in high school is designed to help the girls solve personal home-and-family living problems in the light of changing social and economic conditions which affect the home.

Industrial Arts and Vocational Training

After boys complete an exploratory course in Industrial Arts in the Newark junior high schools, they may elect the following courses in the senior high school:

In the sophomore year, one semester of drawing is required of all tenth grade students as a prerequisite to other courses offered during the junior and senior years. In addition, students may elect another semester of drawing; or they may elect a semester's work in electricity, printing, sheet metal, or woodworking during the sophomore year.

In the eleventh year, boys may specialize and take advanced work in the courses named above, or they may enter a two-year course in Smith-Hughes vocational machine-shop welding. This latter choice will permit them to devote one-half day (three hours) in shop practice and the remainder of the school day in machine mathematics, related science, blueprint reading, and applied English.

The first year of automotive mechanics is based upon the principal operations of the passenger car, the truck, the jeep, and internal combustion engines. Students disassemble, inspect, repair, and assemble major parts of the engines. Discussion, study of technical information, and specific instruction accompany all jobs performed on each engine.

The second year of automotive mechanics is devoted to study, repair, and maintenance of radial V-type airplane engines and airplane equipment.

Mechanical Drawing is the study of the universal graphic language used in the industrial world. In this course the student learns to visualize and think in three dimensions as well as to use and interpret the symbols of working drawings. Advanced students solve and draw up solutions of problems pertaining to mechanics, machine shop, or woodworking. These drawings are used by the students in these areas in making and revising various equipment.

Printing in the senior year includes making the layout of jobs, composing type and proper page make-up, proofreading, correcting errors, and presswork. Other phases of this field of study are stapling and other types of binding.

Machine woodworking or mill work in wood involves the use of full-size power machinery. Production jobs are sometimes introduced when available.

The advanced vocational machine shop course consists of many maintenance jobs in equipment repair. The related subjects are advanced machine mathematics, machine science, shop organization and management, and history and citizenship.

Senior shop courses are planned to give students experience in laying out work and developing the necessary skills to perform the job accurately in the least amount of time. More reference reading is required during the senior year in order to obtain the necessary technical information before entering upon full-time employment.

With the equipment now available in each area of the shop, pupils are to gain complete experience equivalent to the type of work that will be expected of them in industry.

Physical Education

The objectives of physical education are being revised this year so that they will provide for every girl and boy the means of making himself or herself more adaptable to the society of the new post-war world. Twice a week pupils meet for physical education classes, and one out of every four periods is devoted to health and hygiene.

The objectives of the physical education classes for boys are the development of strength, endurance, stamina, bodily coordination, good health habits, and the appreciation of exercise for recreation and amusement. That is accomplished by means of tactics, conditioning exercises, games, sports, apparatus work, gymnastics, and command tactics.

In girls' health classes, proper health habits are stressed in addition to the development of proper mental attitudes toward better physical health, emotional balance, and mental health. In activity classes, games, sports, and other activities which develop leadership, personality, and interest in the social life of the school and community are stressed. Because there will be more leisure time in the post-war world, intramural games and the like are provided to give the girls experience which will help them make a wise choice in the use of their leisure time.

Intramural teams in various sports are organized for both boys and girls. Boys' sports include basketball, volleyball, wrestling, boxing, softball, and cross-country running. Girls' sports include archery, basketball, badminton, hockey, softball, and volleyball.

Music

The orchestra, under the supervision of Mr. Sam Gelfer, plays the music of the masters with the aim of increasing the understanding and appreciation of the great composers, both living and dead, on the part of the students. The orchestra meets Monday and Thursday for its musical activities. It furnishes the music during the Thursday assembly programs. This spring the orchestra gave a very delightful concert.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Dwight Campbell, is very active during the year. It meets three times a week and offers famous band music both new and old for its members to play and enjoy. Special attention is given music presented at the annual spring concert. Music of the masters, both regular band compositions and transcriptions, marches, and feature numbers are presented at this popular annual event.

The band also furnishes music for football and basketball contests. Special formations and feature numbers enliven football games, while swing music and pep marches stimulate basketball fans.

The Newark High School chorus, directed by Mr. Wendell Jones, meets twice a week. This year the vocal department is offering a new course in addition to the chorus. It is voice-class instruction. The classes are limited to six students each so that students may receive individual attention. At their weekly sessions the classes sing vocal compositions by old and modern composers with emphasis being placed upon interpretation and appreciation. Several programs are offered throughout the school year in addition to appearances before groups outside the school.

English

English is offered to all students of Newark High School and is required of sophomores and juniors. Seniors may elect College Preparatory English or General English.

Sophomore English consists of composition, both written and oral, grammar, and literature, both English and American. Work in literature during the year concerns the short story, a Shakespearian play, poetry, the essay, and the novel.

College Preparatory English in the eleventh year continues the study of composition and literature. The literature course of study includes the reading of a long poem, a novel, a play of Shakespeare, and the writings of American authors.

Junior Industrial English comprises the study of composition, oral and written, and the study of American Literature throughout the year. The novel, Gold, and the comedy, She Stoops To Conquer, are read.

Business English is taken during the junior year by commercial students. This course stresses English usage, letter writing, and American literature.

During the senior year, the works of famous English authors are studied in College English. Seniors are required to write two long papers: one, a book review and one, a long paper based on book material. Although General English is included in the English course, there is no class in General English this year.

The speech course of Newark High School includes practice in both platform behavior and public speaking. Some time is spent in the interpretation of poetry and characters as well as the study of dramatic arts and techniques. Principles of make-up, scene construction, lighting, and other elements of play production are combined to give the course a well-rounded program.

Juniors and seniors are also given an opportunity to take Journalism. This entitles them to take part in writing for the weekly school paper and assists them in learning to read the newspaper and to develop a vocabulary.

Art

The course of study in Art is planned to help the art student develop according to his own ability and willingness. He can find pleasure in this expression whether he is a beginner or the more advanced student, because the possible activities are unlimited.

Free hand drawing is an interesting fundamental art study, for it deals with observation or organized version. Subject matter for this activity may be still life, figure, and landscape. Various mediums, such as chalk, charcoal, crayon, and pencil, are used.

Understanding the principles of design is another important phase of the art course, not only as pure decoration, but also as basic organization of an art product. Here the student works from memory and imagination as well as from life.

Not only does the art student work in second dimension, but also he has an excellent opportunity to express himself in the third dimension. Clay is one of the best mediums for this. The student learns the possibilities and limitations of this material and the proper use of tools. All the time he is urged to remember the importance of making the art product express his own individuality.

Whatever the student chooses to study—whether it be fashion, illustration, lettering, cartooning, dress designing, portrait drawing, ceramics, leathercraft, or painting—he will find that in learning the technique of various mediums and utilizing the principles of design in creating an art product he will be confronted by a strong mental challenge and a need for developing manual skill.

Languages

A primary objective in the teaching of the earlier courses of modern languages is the development of the ability to read simple prose, to pronounce intelligibly, to understand aurally, to use language orally within the limits of the pupils' classroom experience, to write the language within the limits of the pupils' active vocabulary, and to gain an understanding of foreign peoples and their civilization, which will contribute to the creation of an intelligent citizenship and to an enlightened public opinion in international affairs— so vital at the present time. The later courses in modern languages emphasize and extend these aims and give special attention to the development of a rich literary and cultural background.

The many benefits derived from the study of Latin include the following: a more comprehensive understanding of the English language, the ability to think in logical patterns and to express these thoughts in correct English, the ability to comprehend the contributions of the race over a long period of time, the opportunity to have a broader understanding of peoples other than Americans, and to secure a knowledge of the school institutions and problems of an earlier age, which, by contrast, may lead to a proper appraisal of the present.

To meet these aims Newark Senior High School is this year offering the following courses in foreign languages: Latin X—stories in mythology and Roman history, and Caesar's Gallic Wars with a correlation with the first and second World Wars; Latin XII—Fourth Year Latin, to a combined class of juniors and seniors; two years of French and Spanish; one year of German.

Social Science

The social sciences form a group of very important subjects offered in the high school today. This group of subjects give students a background which enables them to understand their country and its current problems. History is offered in the sophomore and junior years and includes the events of ancient times, the study of medieval history, the tracing of modern progress, and the discussion of current problems. General history presents a brief survey of man's progress from earliest times to the present. Modern European history concerns the events in European countries from the advent of modern times to the present. These courses serve as background studies for American history. History of the United States, which is offered during the junior year, traces the parade of events from the discovery period to the present era. An important item also included in the history curriculum is the weekly discussion of current events.

Other subjects offered in the social science group are civics, economics, economic geography, and sociology. Civics deals with the organization and function of the government of the United States. Economics concerns the problems in earning a living. Each of these are semester courses which are compulsory studies for seniors. Economic geography deals with the imports and exports of the United States and other countries. The products distributed by the various countries and items related to the growth and distribution of these products are considered. Sociology deals with the sociological problems of society in the United States today. This year, elementary psychology has been offered to meet the growing need for better understanding of man's problems and for clearer comprehension of matters which affect his thinking processes.

Science

The science course is divided into four branches: chemistry, physics, biology, and machine science.

Biology, generally taken during the sophomore year, aims to increase a student's understanding of life of the world in which he lives and to teach him to adapt himself to his environment. To develop scientific habits, which include exact observation, comparison of results obtained by experiment and observation, logical testing of the truth or falsity of generalizations, accuracy, search for truth, open-mindedness, and acknowledgment of law of cause and effect, is the primary concern of the course.

Physics offers a detailed study of heat, light, and the mechanics of solids and liquids. Specifically, college physics aims to teach the student to understand fundamental measurements, states of matter, mechanics and motion, the laws of machines, heat, sound, light, magnetism and static electricity, electric currents, induced currents, electrical radiations, and other radiations, including cosmic rays, X-rays, and radium rays.

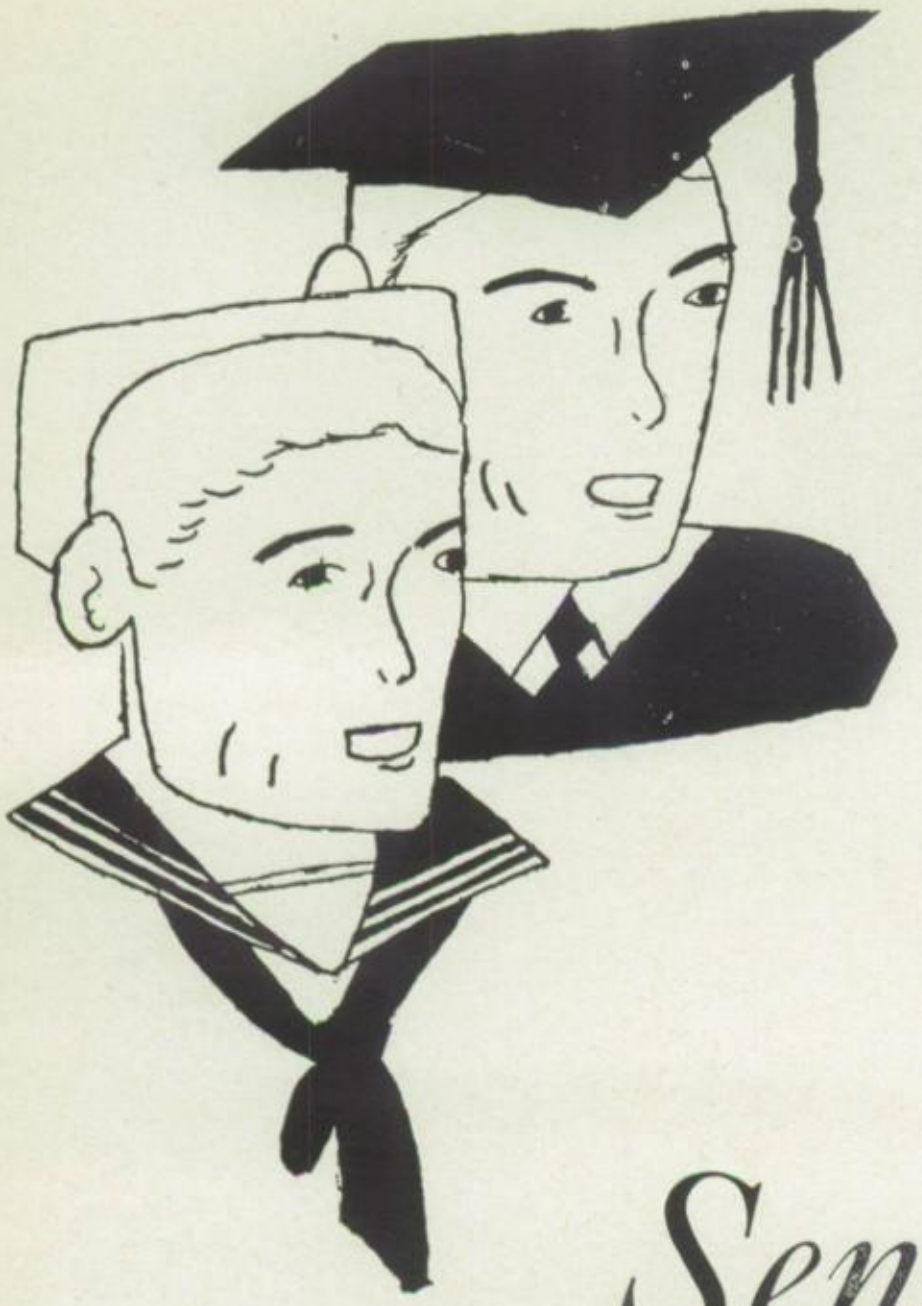
Practical science aims to acquaint students with principles of physics and chemistry which underlie the machines and materials which they use in daily work. Chief concern is with consumer physics.

Chemistry is a study of the composition of matter and the changes which it undergoes. The course strives to develop an appreciation of the service of chemistry to the nation and imparts information of definite use in our daily home life.

Machine science is a course which prepares students to advance in the machine trade, which helps them to develop interest in science as offered to the machine industry, which attempts to show the need and application of science in industry, which helps to give the student a command of science as used by machinery in the machine trade, and which strives to develop an appreciation on the part of the student of the scientific facts upon which his trade is built.



Seniors

1945 Prize Awards

For the second consecutive year, the annual commencement exercises were held in the First Methodist Church on May 31, 1945. Margaret Alice Iler was the student whose name was announced most often for prize awards. She received the William E. and Annie S. Miller Prize, which is an award of twenty-five dollars given the student having the highest average in four years of College English. Secondly, she received the Latin Medal, awarded by Zeta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi. And finally, she earned a scholarship to the University of Chicago.

Donald Wilkin Boyd received two coveted awards: the Harvard History Prize, which is awarded the boy getting the highest marks in history; and the Harvard Cup, which is given to the best all-round boy.

Wanda Fanchon Diller was given the Theodore Roosevelt History Prize.

Joseph Allen Davis received the Leland Baxter, Jr. Award for outstanding work in journalism. In order to receive this award, the student must have been enrolled in Journalism in his junior and senior years, must have had at least an average rating in other subjects, and must have completed the college preparatory course.

The Commercial Award was given to Faye Luella Jones for excellent work done in the commercial course. The winner is always judged according to his adaptibility for a life career in business, his application, and his grades during the three years of high school.

Six students—Jack Herman Bertsch, Claribel Bush, Kenneth Wilson Colman, William Dean Eckert, Donna Jane Mossman, and Norma Louise Richards—received the National Forensic Award. This award is given to students who receive at least one hundred and fifty points in debating.

The Florence M. King Trophy, given for outstanding dramatic ability, was presented to Jack Herman Bertsch.

The Soroptimist Club Award, a prize comprising twenty-five dollars and a gold pin, went to Jeannette Jury, who was selected the outstanding all-round girl.

Laura Louise Hartshorn and Norma Louise Richards earned scholarships to Muskingum College.

Robert Meade Gardner received the Athletic Award, which is presented every year to the male graduate with the best athletic record.

A new award, the Roger Sedgwick Award, in basketball, went to Robert Earl Thomas.

The World War II Victory Prize in Citizenship, a prize to last for the duration of the war, was presented to Jeannette Jury and Roger Lee Pratt.

Central's home-room activity periods are planned and executed under the supervision of the home-room officers, elected each semester. The fourth period each Thursday all pupils meet in their home rooms and enjoy the programs planned and prepared by the committee in charge for that day. Various types of activity are used from week to week. Development of good social and personality traits among all the pupils and development of special abilities of individual pupils are the chief aims of these periods.

One of the primary objectives of Woodrow Wilson Junior High School is to encourage a high standard of scholarship. We are featuring this year a picture of those pupils who have been on the honor roll during the current year. We have been consistent in having from ten to fifteen per cent of our student body on the Honor Roll and we are happy to note that the highest ranking four pupils of the Class of '46 in our Senior High School are all products of Woodrow Wilson School.

Steps are being taken this year to join the National Junior Honor Society which is a branch of the National Honor Society. .

Woodrow Wilson Junior High School will always be well represented on the honor roll of any institution attended by her scholars, and we trust that this tradition may long continue.

The high school annual is published to record by means of photographs and articles the life of the high school. In this way the staff hopes to give each student a book that in the future will recall for him many memories of school days. It has been the aim of the staff to gain individuality and interest.

The annual staff of 1946 wishes to express its appreciation to Miss Harman and her art staff for the art section and Mr. Spangler and his department for helping to compile parts of this book.

The Reveille News Sheet, which comes out every Friday of the school year, is edited by the Journalism Staff. In this weekly paper are an editorial page, a sports page, a fun column, and various accounts of school activities. A student subscribing to the paper not only receives regular issues, but also a special issue for Christmas and a Senior Number at the end of the year.

This class gives the members an opportunity to write for publication. Publicity to school events constitute the material prepared by them.

They study not only a standard textbook but also read the New York Times daily. Creative writing is encouraged during the year.

The Student Council is one of the most important organizations of this school. It encourages, promotes, and supervises many school activities. Through the various committees, the Student Council has conducted school-wide dances held after football and basketball games. It has also had charge of all chapel programs and pep rallies. The council sponsored a very successful Victory Bond Drive during the year. The Scholarship Committee awarded a scholarship banner each six weeks to the home room with the highest scholarship average. The Council advises students on current student problems.

The Student Council is composed of representatives from each class. They are first suggested by the faculty and then are voted upon by the entire student body.

Secretary.....Norma Lawrence
Treasurer.....Gene Morin
Adviser.....Miss Laura E. Hosick

The membership of the National Honor Society is based on the scholarship average of the student. The average is based on those grades received in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. A national organization, the National Honor Society in Newark High School is composed of those pupils in the upper fifteen per cent of the senior class.

The Society was first organized in this school in 1937 under the leadership of Miss Laura E. Hosick. The chief purpose of the organization is to promote higher scholarship among the students.

On February 28, in an assembly program, the complete membership was presented to the student body. At the same time, the society presented the school with a speaker's stand which is to be used in future assembly programs. Also, as is the usual custom each year, a banquet was held on April 25 for the members of the club.

This year Scribblers continued on the same basis as last year. New members, however, were not necessarily recommended by English teachers, but were admitted upon the merit of creative pieces of writing submitted for the consideration of club members. The purpose of the organization remained the same: the stimulation of writing of various forms of literature by students and the investigation of the different techniques employed in these fields.

Writings from students in regular classes were submitted and read critically. Furthermore, the Editorial Board supervised the publication of the third volume of Scribimus.

Masque and Gavel is an honorary society recognizing those members of the high school skilled in speech and dramatics. The three objectives of the club are to assist the student in raising his standard of speech, to recognize and promote significant student achievement in any area of speech in the high school, and to sponsor a better relationship between the high school and its community.

New members are admitted on the basis of judged tryouts which include reading selections from both prose and poetry.

The adviser this year is Miss Joan Patton. Under her direction the club has put on two three-act plays, "The Night Was Dark" and "The Late Christopher Bean;" several one-act plays, including "Tuberoses;" and an assembly program. Students of the club also have participated in inter-school contests.

Made up of members of the senior class who are planning on attending college after graduation, the College Club has for its main purpose the acquaintance of each member with the school best suited to his needs and the preparation of the students for college life.

At the various meetings of the club, speakers from several colleges have informed students of the location, expenses, requirements, and financial aids and opportunities offered by the colleges they represented. In addition, several books concerning problems which the students will meet in college are studied. Furthermore, students have taken various academic tests including vocabulary, mathematics, and scholarship tests.

Music Appreciation, a new organization in Newark High School this year, is a club concerned with the promoting of student interest in better music. The club meets every other Friday afternoon. At the beginning of the year, members voted in favor of a listening program; consequently, Friday sessions were devoted to listening to records of artists playing their chosen instruments and to discs of various symphonies, choral and ensemble groups.

A major project of the club was the purchasing of recordings of fine music and the presenting of them to the school library. These selections were made by a Record Purchasing Committee, including Marylinda Jeffries, Mona Rose Harris, Gwendolyn Holmok, Frank Spencer, Jr., James Reusser, and Donald M. Smith. At several meetings a list of titles was presented to the entire membership from which it made its selections. Final purchase of records was based upon the result of the numbers receiving the most votes by the membership present.

During the year an annonymous gift of six dollars was presented to the club for the purchase of records. Frank Spencer made the presentation.

This club hopes that it might be instrumental in beginning a revival of interest in better music in the Newark schools.

Home Room Presidents

Adviser.....Mr. Frew C. Boyd

The chief duty of the home-room president is to preside over his home room meetings. He is elected at the beginning of the year by the students of the room.

Programs are carried out by these presidents in their respective home rooms during the year, and in the absence of the teacher, they take charge of the room.

The purpose of home-room presidents organization is to give students experience in leadership.

Library Assistants

Row 1—Nancy Singer, Shirley Guthrie, Miss Dorn, Monogene Benner, Mary Jane Bebout, Jean Hillbrant.
Row 2—Rita Jo Keckley, Ellen Claggett, Nancy Branscome, Mildred Attlee, Ardith Anderson, Patricia Lowry, Molly Schmutzler.

Adviser.....Miss Dorn

Members of a club we hear little about, the Library Assistants, endeavor to increase their own knowledge of how to use the library and to aid other students in taking advantage of the material offered by the library.

Organized in 1940, the club is open only to students with a "B" average. The students help in the library one period each day, but the club meets every two weeks. The purpose of the club meeting is to give the students instruction concerning their daily work and to inform them of their special projects. Among these special projects, the students plan the bulletin boards during book week.

Thus this group of students is extremely interested in increasing the curiosity of their schoolmates for this valuable department of our school.

Hi-Y

Co-Presidents.....Frank Spencer—Don Idle
Secretary.....John Reber
Treasurer.....James McDonald
Advisers.....Mr. Cox, Mr. Crossland, Mr. Smith

The Hi-Y organization this year was comprised of a single group instead of the usual sophomore, junior and senior divisions. As in previous years, the group believed it enjoyed a very successful year in planning and participating in both social and educational activities.

During the meetings, educational movies have been run which have activated the Hi-Y toward the development of a good, broad education. Programs have been arranged for the boys that offer both entertainment and opportunity to develop a more extensive education.

As the club glances back at the current year's achievements, it feels compensated for the effort expended.

Treasurer.....William Slotterbeck
Advisers.....Mr. Roberts and Mr. Oatman

The 300 Club is composed of students who are enrolled in the Smith-Hughes Vocational Machine Shop Course.

The club meets every other Thursday of the school year in Room 300. The club has been formed to encourage and promote interest of mechanically inclined young men towards the machinists' trade.

One of the club's projects is the making of a display of machined parts for a school showcase. Another aim of the club is to provide social entertainment for its members. Numerous parties have been held throughout the year.

The club intends to make frequent visits to various industries of Ohio to become better acquainted with more recent developments and improvements in industry.

This organization is becoming more popular each year and is contributing in a satisfactory manner to the needs of a large number of the student body. This year we can boast a membership of over two hundred students.

The Chorus meets twice weekly and is open to all students of the high school. Choral works old and new are studied and the group gives two concerts a year—one at Christmas time and the other during "National Music Week" in the spring.

In addition to the formal concerts, smaller ensemble groups from the Chorus are invited to sing for clubs and organizations of the city. In this manner we render valuable service in tying up our school with the community.

Special groups from the chorus have sung at various functions throughout the school year. A schedule of different public appearances follows:

On December 10, 1945, students sang at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Masonic Temple. Later, a group sang Sunday evening, December 16, at the East Main Methodist Church. Still later, on December 20, an ensemble sang for a Shrine Club luncheon at the Masonic Temple. The following day the full chorus presented a Christmas assembly program for the high school.

On January 6, 1946, a group sang for a Girl Reserve meeting in the First Baptist Church. At a Grotto meeting in the Masonic Temple, on March 27, students presented several numbers. And finally, the District P.T.A. convention enjoyed a choral program presented on March 28 in the high school auditorium.

A male quartet, composed of James Fullen, Al Reinhard, Robert Young and David Lacy, sang at the Father and Son banquet in the Second Christian Church on March 1, 1946. The same month, on March 18, they sang at a Kiwanis luncheon at the Masonic Temple. At Outville, Ohio, at a veterans' homecoming, the same group of boys sang. The date was the evening of March 22.

The vocal department, under the supervision of Mr. Wendell M. Jones, is offering a new course this year in addition to the Chorus: it is voice-class instruction. The classes are limited to six students each so that in addition to group instruction the students may receive individual attention also.

Students are drilled in the fundamentals of voice production through the medium of art songs. Phonograph records of great singers are analyzed and students are taught to judge what is good or bad in singing.

Director.....Mr. Gelfer

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Sam Gelfer, affords music at assemblies, plays, and various other school activities. Its purpose is to stimulate an appreciation for finer music in this way and by means of student participation.

This year the orchestra has played music of all nations, and it has studied the works of Mozart, Beethovan, Bach, and Brahms.

The highlight of the year for this group was their concert in the spring.

Band

The Science Club is an organization consisting of students interested in science, particularly those phases not included in the regular school curriculum.

The adviser of the Science Club is Dr. C. E. Amos. The club meets every other week during the school year in Room 304. The object of the club is to make its members familiar with the essential phases of science in our modern world. This is being accomplished by means of projects and educational programs given at the meetings.

The club's programs have consisted of speeches by the members and educational films. Prominent among these films were the following: one on the subject of the internal combustion engine, one on the history of aviation, and one on modern methods of welding.

This year, the club worked on a project to interest the student body in science. The committee appointed for this purpose was headed by Sue Thorn.

The club voted to be and is affiliated with the National Science Clubs of America.

Adviser.....Mr. George Stoeckmann

At the beginning of the year two students, a boy and a girl, are chosen in each home room for the purpose of being agents for the Reveille News Sheet and the Reveille Annual. The sincere interest of the students in these publications is vital to the successful sale of the Reveille News Sheet and the Annual. Therefore, these room agents necessarily have a good school spirit; they help create a better spirit in the whole school.

This responsibility upon the room agent helps develop his ability for business. Only a dependable student qualifies for this position because the duties require responsibility on the part of the room agents.

At the beginning of each year the agent takes subscriptions from the various members of his home room for the Reveille News Sheet; he solicits subscriptions to the Reveille Annual at the beginning of the second semester.

Business Staff

Business Manager.....William Barrick
Assistant Business Manager.....Marjorie Hall
Adviser.....Mr. George Stoeckmann

At the beginning of each year the Business Staff is orgaanized for the purpose of soliciting advertisements for the Reveille Annual. Each member of the staff is given the names of several advertisers whom he sees personally. As a result of the work of these people, the Annual is partially financed

This type of work provides valuable experience and training in connection with the business world. Securing these advertisements develops poise and ease in the student that will be very valuable in future business contacts. It also affords the opportunity for staff members to become acquainted with local merchants.

Latin Club

President.....Ursula Lea
Vice President.....Frank Spencer
Secretary.....Mary Linda Jeffries
Treasurer.....James Martin
Adviser.....Mr. C. P. Smith

Organized this year, the Latin Club has several worthwhile objectives. The aims in forming the club are to extend the knowledge of the group in the field of Cicero and Virgil, to develop a greater appreciation of culture, and to stimulate the student's interest in Latin. This year the group of students consists of the members of the Virgil class. Next year, if it continues to operate, the club will consist of the students in the class studying Cicero.

The Latin Club has done work on the Aeneid of Virgil. Several committees were appointed to do work in various fields. As a result of this work, the future students of Virgil may use the information gathered this year for their study of the Aeneid. This useful information includes the following books which pertain to the first six books of Virgil's Aeneid: background, drawings and maps, mythology, figures of speech, scansion, grammar, references in literature to the Aeneid, and the psychological analysis of the characters in the Aeneid.

The Girls' Youth Association is a group of junior and senior girls organized to promote an interest in the welfare of the community, to promote scholarship, and to further culture among its members. The club is made up of seventy-five girls who petition the club for membership and then are chosen by old members.

They have a new adviser this year. Miss McCreary has taken the counsellorship since Mrs. Baird left for Granville to teach.

For welfare work this year the club gave gifts to the Children's Home at Christmas time, gave to the War Chest and the March of Dimes, and concluded various other tasks. Included in the social affairs were a "Hobo" dance in November, an initiation dinner for new members, and a formal dance at the end of the year.

Meetings of G.Y.A. are held on the first and third Tuesdays. Programs this year included a play by the new members and a talk by Dr. Swett.

As a Girl Reserve I shall try to be
Gracious in manner
Impartial in judgment
Ready for service
Loyal to friends
Reaching toward the best
Earnest in purpose
Seeing the beautiful
Eager for knowledge
Reverent to God
Victorious over self
Ever dependable

The Newark High School Girl Reserves were organized in 1920. For the past nineteen years Miss Mildred Hawke had been chief adviser. This year, however, because of the resignation of Miss Hawke, the Girl Reserves chose Miss Louada Morgan as new adviser. Miss Helen Dorn continued in her position as program adviser.

This year the club consisted of juniors and seniors only for the first semester; sophomores were taken in the second semester. A formal recognition service followed by a tea was held at the First Baptist Church on January 6.

The club adopted a needy family early in the year, presented Christmas presents to them and gave a dinner for them. The club also contributed clothes to them. The members of the club attended church in a body in Girl Reserve Week.

Aside from welfare work, the club sponsored two sports dances and a formal Valentine dance. Interesting programs were provided for the meetings, which are held every two weeks in the auditorium or library. The club also presented a chapel program on February 21, on a patriotic theme. In addition, a Girl Reserve Chorus was organized under the direction of Mary Cotterman and Shirley Guthrie.

This club consists of nearly one hundred and fifty members and is one of the most active bodies in the school curriculum.

Discussing the question: Resolved, that every able-bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of full-time military training before attaining the age of 24, Newark High's debate teams enjoyed another very successful year. The season was opened May 26 with a novice tournament at Columbus East. In this tourney Newark's negative—Jerry Steinman, James Reusser and Frank Spencer, Jr.—won first in the B division; the local affirmative team—Chris Evans and Ursula Lea—took second place in Class A.

The first regular tournament of the Western Ohio district of the Ohio State Speech League for 1945-'46 was a practice tourney held at Newark, November 17. Among the ten schools entered, Newark tied with Zanesville and Columbus Central for third place. The first division of the A group—Chris Evans, Ursula Lea, affirmative; Joan Denman and Frank Spencer, negative—defeated Columbus North, Columbus East twice, and Zanesville, losing to Wooster, Columbus Central and Dayton Oakwood. The second division of the A group—Herron Mercer and Mary Carpenter, affirmative; Gerry Steinman, Bill Hand and James Reusser, negative—won over Dayton Oakwood and Columbus Central, losing to Wooster and Columbus East. In the Class B division—Harry Butler, Jerry Bowden and David Chaney, affirmative; Emogene Shomaker, La Verne Dowler and Don Roberts, negative — all sophomores — won four of their eight debates.

At the combined debate clinic and practice tournament held at Ohio State University on December 1, the following Newark debaters were entered: Mary Carpenter, Jerry Bowden, Joan Denman, James Reusser, Bill Hand, Harry Butler, David Chaney, Don Roberts, Emogene Shomaker and La Verne Dowler. In the two rounds of debating, college students and members of advanced high school debating teams served as critic judges. Ursula Lea, Chris Evans and Herron Mercer served in this capacity for the local school.

On January 12, 1946, occurred Columbus North's seventh annual all-events tournament. Newark debaters won seven out of eleven tries. The first team defeated Dayton Fairmont, Columbus North and Delaware, losing to Nelsonville and Lima Central. The sophomore team won four of their six contests, tying with Dayton Fairmont and Lima Central for second place in the B division.

The next tournament, a qualifying tourney, was held at Newark, January 26. Twelve Class A teams and eight reserve teams participated. The local teams placed second, winning eight out of twelve debates. The first team defeated Marietta, Columbus Central and Dayton Fairmont, losing to Zanesville, Athens and Columbus Central. In the reserve division, Newark won five of their six attempts.

On February 9, the first debate team journeyed to Sylvania for the fourth qualifying tournament of western Ohio. At the end of the second round, two schools—Newark and Lima Central—had perfect records, each winning four debates. In an attempt to break the tie, Newark's affirmative lost to Lima Central negative by a 2-to-1 decision.

The season closed with participation in the District Student N.F.L. Congress held at Ohio State University April 18 and 19.

The Art Staff is a small group of students who work voluntarily under the guidance of Miss Harman to furnish the necessary art work for the annual.

Insertions, backgrounds, and other drawings needed on snapshot pages and throughout the book are supplied by this staff. With Miss Harman's help, they work out original drawings for each of these pages.

The Cheerleaders

Adviser.....Miss Florence Myer

Part of the color of Newark High School's football and basketball games is due to the activities of the cheerleaders. This group of cheerleaders is made up of one senior, four juniors, and three sophomores. They lead the cheers at both home and out-of-town games and aid in making the decorations for the different sports banquets.

To qualify for this activity the girls must meet certain scholastic requirements and try out before Miss Myer. These girls have done a fine job this year and deserve much thanks.

Newark vs. Columbus East

The Wildcats opened the "45" season with a victory over a strong Columbus East backfield by a score of 13 to 7. Bill Fleitz starred for Newark; he was responsible for all of Newark's points.

Thomas made East's only touchdown on a sprint around the end.

Fleitz gave Newark an early 13-point lead, but East then scored and threatened to tie up the score time and time again. However, the fighting Cats, without the service of Captain Don Kreager, who broke his leg on the seventh play of the game, fought back and had the ball six inches from the goal when the final gun went off.

Jim Riley, first-team end, missed the opening game because he also had a broken leg.

Newark vs. Columbus North

A powerful Newark eleven spanked North 20 to 12 at Columbus for the second game of the '45 season. The Newark team had possession of the pigskin the biggest part of the first half. Don Schaller was the speedy half-back that first threw North out of line. Bill Fleitz was watched closely by the North men; consequently, he fed the ball to one of the other back field men to make rapid gains. Fleitz made the second touchdown, and at the half, Newark was ahead 13 to 0.

In the third quarter, North recovered a fumble on the Newark 41-yard line and worked the ball down for their counter. In the fourth quarter they again took possession and made another touchdown. Newark then took the pigskin on the kick-off and hit pay dirt for the final time. Bill Fleitz made two extra points through line plunges. The final score was 20 to 12.

Newark vs. Dover

Newark's red-hot eleven added another decisive victory to its remarkable record by defeating Dover at the Tornadoe Stadium. In the first quarter, Fleitz hit pay-dirt with a line plunge for the extra point.

In the second stanza, Smith, with good blocking, hit pay-dirt with a sixty-five yard run. Again Fleitz took the pigskin over for another score.

Newark's Don Schaller came back during the second quarter and made a touchdown. He made a line plunge for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, Dover got a safety which made an odd score. A pass to Shannon completed the scoring side of the game.

The final score was 32 to 8.

Newark vs. Lancaster

Before a l a r g e and enthusiastic crowd, Bill Fleitz, Newark's fullback, took the opening kick-off and weaved eighty yards down the side of the field for the first touchdown of the game. The Gales had run no more than two plays when Hepsworth went over for another touchdown.

Late in the second period the Wildcats started on their own forty-one; seven plays later Hepsworth shot over for the third touchdown. At the half the score was 18 to 0.

Early in the third stanza, Newark took the ball on their own forty-nine, and in eight plays F l e i t z climbed through c e n t e r for the touchdown. Later in the third, Shannon picked a pass out of the air which belonged to the Gales and returned it to their twenty-two. With a pass from Smith to Shannon t h e y made the fifth touchdown.

The Gales made their only score in the last few moments of the game against a mixture of Newark's second and third teams. The final score was 30 to 6.

Newark vs. Coshocton

After winning four consecutive games, the Wildcats, performing before a large homecoming gathering, overpowered a strong Red Skin eleven. In the first stanza, Fleitz took the ball over from the Coshocton three-yard line. Kane's kick was blocked for the extra point. Early in the second quarter Dunn blocked a punt, and the Newark eleven was again rolling for another score. A pass from Smith to Fleitz was taken and hustled across for the score. Kane's kick was good and the score at the half was 13 to 0.

In the latter part of the third quarter, Newark took the leather to the Red Skin ten-yard line. A pass from Smith to Shannon put the Wildcats on pay dirt once more. Kane made the extra point by a plunge. In the beginning of the fourth quarter, Smith intercepted a pass. With the help of the team, Hepsworth drove through right tackle for the score.

The final score was 26 to 0.

Newark vs. Louisville Male

Sporting their famed "southern hospitality," formerly unbeaten Male High School of Louisville, Kentucky, fell before the charges of the Hanshuemen in the toughest fray so far in the season. The Wildcats struck paydirt first with a Smith pass thrown to Slater for six points. Not to be outdone, the fighting Male team, on which Coach Hanshue played in his high-school days, drove back to the Newark three-yard line from which Robinson plunged for the T.D. After an exchange of the ball, Fleitz caught a beautiful pass from Smith and rambled some thirty yards for another six-pointer.

Rough playing dominated the second half in which Newark ended up gaining their fifth straight victory by a score of 20 to 13.

Newark vs. Cambridge

Changing their monicker did not help the Cambridge eleven as the Wildcats humbled them 38 to 6, gaining another step in their drive to the C.O.L. championship.

Fleitz started the ball rolling with a 78-yard jaunt to the bread-and-honey territory. Kane donated the extra point. A basketball pass from Smith to Shannon made another touchdown. Cambridge finally scored after Smith, Fleitz, Schaller, and Bob Hepsworth had each contributed six points. Kane kicked another extra point to complete the scoring.

Newark vs. Marietta

On their own field during their homecoming on Friday evening, November 2, the Tigers of Marietta fought a hard game from whistle to gun. During the first half, Marietta gained many yards but lost the ball frequently because of costly fumbles and downs.

Bill Fleitz was off to a mad dash down the middle, cutting off to the sides, for a touchdown as a result of the first play Newark called. Kane kicked the extra point. Marietta bounced back with a powerful offensive which netted them their only score of the contest. Fleitz and Schaller contributed three touchdowns before the first half closed. The halftime score was 26 to 6.

Rain during the second half slowed up the offensive of both teams; nevertheless, Fleitz scored early in the third quarter. Kane made the extra point.

The final score was 33 to 6.

Newark vs. Zanesville

The long-looked-forward-to Zanesville game was won. Newark again earned the C.O.L. championship. The mighty Blue Devils, who had hoped to upset a slightly favored Wildcat eleven, were forced to swallow a 20-to-7 defeat. But Newark's victory was not easily won.

The Wildcat-Blue Devil game was one of the cleanest, fairest, and best played at White Field. Both teams gave their all and received as they gave. Bill Fleitz again proved too much for the opponents. Zanesville led 7 to 6 when Fleitz broke through tackle, assisted by a nice block by Don Schaller, to romp 78 yards to pay-dirt.

Eight seniors participated in this finale which marked another undefeated season for Coach Luther Hanshue, the second in three years.

The 1945 Season

The 1945 football season of Newark High School ended with the Wildcats placing in the win column nine straight times to share the mythical state championship title and cop the C.O.L. championship.

The Wildcats, beginning the season with only four lettermen, Bill Fleitz, Jack Dunn, Don Kreager, and Dick Kane, defeated Columbus East 13 to 7, knocking off their first opponent in a tough nine-game schedule. After the East game, the youthful Wildcats, made up largely of Slater, Wohlheter, John, Kane, Kreager, Dunn, Anderson, Queen, Lange, Shannon, Smith, Hepsworth, Schaller, and Fleitz, went on to defeat the following teams in order:

Columbus East, Columbus North, Dover, Lancaster, Coshocton, Louisville Male, Ky., Cambridge, Marietta, and Zanesville.

The 1945 Wildcat gridders were rated highly in the state by many prominent sportsmen. They were rated not as capable naturally, as the undefeated 1943 squad, but were rated higher in their scrapping and aggressive attitude by their coaches. A post-season event of note was an address by "Bo" McMillen of the University of Indiana at the annual football banquet.

Next year the Wildcats will try to live up to the reputation set by their predecessors even though such stars as C.O.L. selected Dick Kane, who rated the AP and INS second string all-Ohio team, Bill Fleitz, who was selected in both the AP and INS first all-Ohio team, Bob Shannon, who received honorable mention on the AP all-Ohio selection, Don Schaller, and Francis Wohlheter, along with Ed Lange and Captain Don Kreager, who was injured in the East game, will have graduated.

THE 1946 SEASON

Another great season! The fighting, youthful Wildcat cagers of 1945-46 left a remarkable record of 21 games won and four lost for posterity to shoot at.

With Max Douglas back at the helm after a year's rest, the 'Cats won the Central Ohio League championship and the Central District title before bowing to Hamilton Catholic 41 to 39 in the regional tournament at Dayton. Captain Jack Slater, Bill Goldsmith, Shorty Williams, Bill Fleitz, and Don Smith carried the brunt of the attack throughout the rugged season with considerable help from Bobbie Shannon, Don Schaller, Jack Dettre, Dick Schenk, and Jim Riley.

The 'Cats were beaten only by Marietta, Dover, both of whom they later defeated, Middletown and Hamilton Catholic as they rang up an offensive record of 43 points a game, while holding the defense to a meager 29-point average.

Graduating and leaving the team this year will be Jack Slater, Bill Goldsmith, Shorty Williams, Bill Fleitz, Bobbie Shannon, and Don Schaller. Don Smith, the only junior letterman, will carry on with Jack Dettre, Dick Schenk, Jim Riley, and a host of tall reserve lads.

The 21-and-4 record of this year's team gives Coach Max Douglas an incredible record of 73 basketball encounters won and only five lost in the three years he was at the head of the varsity aggregation.

Reserve Basketball Squad

The Paul Harlow-coached Reserves of the 1945-46 season, although starting slowly, finished the year with an eleven-won-and-seven-lost record. Beginning the season without the services of a single letterman, the junior varsity was quick to develop with Dick Retherford, Jim Lawrence, George Dine, John Worley, Harold Sheets, and Rollie Pipes in the feature roles.

The Wildcat Reserves won their initial contest, edging out Columbus East 32 to 30. Four games were necessary to cop another encounter, but once they got started they were hard to stop. The Cubs won the last nine out of ten tilts they played.

Beaten in the Central Ohio League only by Mt. Vernon and Coshocton, they won both return games by decisive scores.

The reserve team boasted of much height this year, which should be a great help to the varsity squad next season. Such cagers as Retherford, Lawrence, Dine, Worley, Sheets, Pipes, Brown, C. Schenk, Moore, and Hartman will be welcomed very heartily by Varsity Coach Douglas for the 1946-47 outfit.

The Newark junior varsity rolled up 535 points this season in 18 contests.

Newark vs. Columbus East

The Newark Wildcats opened the 1945-46 season by again defeating the Columbus East Tigers 67 to 41. The 'Cats were led by two lettermen, Bill Goldsmith and Bill Fleitz, who scored eighteen and thirteen points, respectively. This victory marked the seventh consecutive conquest over a Columbus team in the opener.

Newark vs. Springfield

The Springfield Wildcats were the second victim of the Newark Wildcats, bowing to the local lads in a 57-to-34 defeat. The game, fast and thrilling continually, featured Shorty Williams, Newark guard, who g a r n e r e d 21 points. This contest marked a renewal of an old rivalship between the Newark 'Cats and a perennially tough Springfiield outfit.

COACH DOUGLAS

CAPTAIN SLATER

Newark vs. Coshocton

Newark defeated the Coshocton Redskins, only after a slow, deliberate game by a 32-to-18 score. The encounter was typical of all Wildcat-Redskin games as both gave all they could. The 'Cats finally came out on top with Don Smith, junior guard, leading the point parade with 14 counters.

Newark vs. Bexley

In a game chiefly outstanding for offensive plays, Newark toppled Bexley's cagers 66 to 46. The Bexley victory marked triumph Number Six for the charges of Coach Max Douglas. Shorty Williams, besides playing a heady floor game, burned the nets for 21 points to lead the Wildcat attack.

WILLIAMS

SMITH

Newark vs. Marietta

Tasting defeat for the first time in seven games, the Douglasmen lost a heart-breaking 27-to-28 game to Marietta's elongated Tigers. The game was close at all times, and Newark muffed several chances to tie the score in the last quarter because of the tension. Shorty Williams, Newark guard, however, captured scoring honors with twelve points.

Newark vs. Cambridge

Bouncing back from a heart-breaking defeat by Marietta, the 'Cats traveled to Cambridge to scalp the Bobcats 45 to 31 in a fast and rugged game. In spite of the height of the opposing quintet, the Douglasmen grabbed a lead at the beginning of the game and hung onto it throughout. Jack Slater, with fourteen points, and Shorty Williams, with ten, paced the winners.

Newark vs. Mt. Vernon

The renewal of an old rivalship brought the charges of Mt. Vernon and Newark together after a period of seven years. The 'Cats held a meager lead at the close of the first period and commanded a four - point, half - time margin. The Wildcats went ahead in the last minute to grab a 41-to-30 decision. Shorty Williams led the pointmakers.

Newark vs. Columus Central

The Wildcats defeated another Columbus team, this time Columbus Central, by a 47-to-31 count. Venturing out of C.O.L. competition for one night, the Newark lads were harassed by the Pirates for the first three quarters. Jack Dettre, substitute center, entered the game in the second chapter and put five shots through the hoop before the encounter ended. Shorty Williams, however, hit on fourteen markers to be high man for the 'Cats.

GOLDSMITH

Newark vs. Dover

The Wildcats received their second taste of defeat in the Central Ohio League by dropping a 36-to-32 game in the small Dover gym. Both teams fought well and hard till the final gun. Don Smith, clever 'Cat guard, led his mates with sixteen markers. The Crimson lads were just too well acquainted with their hardwood.

Newark vs. Zanesville

Playing on their own floor, the 'Cats made their old "Y" Bridge rivals, the Zanesville Blue Devils, the victim of a fast-breaking cage machine. Clever pass work prevailed throughout the fast and furious cage contest in which the 'Cats came out on the long end of a 50-to-34 decision. Shorty Williams again led the point-getters with sixteen counters.

SCHENK

Newark vs. Cambridge

Starting out the second round of the C.O.L. in a fine way, the 'Cats battled the Cambridge Bobcats to gain a 49-to-27 decision. The fast game saw many cagers foul out before the encounter ended. Shorty Williams was again top man for the winners with fifteen points.

Newark vs. Lancaster

The 'Cats went through the motions to walk off the floor with the Golden Gales of Lancaster. Goldsmith started the scoring for the 'Cats who ended the initial chapter with a 12-to-5 lead to their credit. After leading at the half-time 20 to 15, the 'Cats spurted ahead to take a 42-to-28 victory. Jack Slater garnered 14 points for the winners.

SHANNON

Newark vs. Coshocton

After leading by only one field goal at the intermission, the Douglasmen spurted in the last quarter to clip the Coshocton Redskins 42 to 34 on the 'Skins' hardwood. Don Smith, Bill Goldsmith, and Captain Jack Slater garnered 11 points apiece for the 'Cats. The 'Skins were in the battle for three and one-half quarters, when the Wildcat machine began to explode.

Newark vs. Lancaster

After leading by only one point at half-time, the Wildcats staged a last-period comeback to defeat Lancaster's Golden Gales 32 to 27 on the latter's floor. The 'Cats held Bond, star Gale center, to three buckets. Bill Goldsmith and Jack Slater collected eleven points to top the 'Cats' scoring in their tenth victory of the season.

Newark vs. Springfield

The 'Cats, playing in unfamiliar territory on the Springfield gym, rolled over the Springfield quintet 54 to 29, their second victory over that team this year. Nothing seemed to go wrong with the 'Cats offense as they connected on a remarkable percentage of shots. Shorty Williams slipped in 21 counters for the local team.

Newark vs. Marietta

Avenging a previous 27-to-28 defeat, the Wildcats traveled down to the Ohio River to stop Marietta's high flying Tigers 40 to 37. The Tigers jumped off with a first-quarter lead and and held it till the last minutes of the game. At the five-minute point, Newark was trailing 37 to 32. The 'Cats suddenly exploded to get a taste of sweet revenge. Captain Jack Slater played an excellent floor game and led the point parade with 18 markers.

DENMAN

Newark vs. Middletown

The Middletown quint, the state champs for 1943-44, visited the local hardwood and walked off the floor with a 34-to-30 victory after only a rugged game by the 'Cats. At the half, the score was fourteen-all, but the Middies managed to s t a y j u s t far far enough ahead of the 'Cats to take the decision as the gun sounded.

Newark vs. Mt. Vernon

Playing on their home floor, the Newark Wildcats defeated the Mt. Vernon Yellow Jackets by a score of 53 to 23. The hoop was not used much during the first half; thus the score at this time was 15 to 11. However, the 'Cats came back stronger in the second half, and Captain Jack Slater racked up 15 points.

Newark vs. Zanesville

The 'Cats started from the first minute of play to hit the hoop from all angles in this high-scoring contest at Zanesville against the Blue Devils. All but two cagers broke into the scoring column as Newark left the court at the final sound of the gun on the long end of a 66-to-47 decision. Captain Jack Slater and Bill Goldsmith dumped in 23 and 19 points respectively for scoring honors.

Newark vs. Dover

With the C.O.L. championship depending on the outcome of this game, the Wildcat Cagers jumped to a 15-to-6 first-quarter lead. At one time the 'Cats dropped 20 points throughr the hoop while holding the Crimson Tornadoes scoreless. When the smoke settled, Newark was found to be on top of a 59-to-33 score and with a Central Ohio League title in its lap. Don Smith scored 19 markers and played a remarkable floor game to lead the locals.

Newark Track

Newark won the nineteen forty-five Central Ohio League championship with flying colors. The final score was Newark 81½ points, Marietta 73, Zanesville 32½. These were the only three teams that competed. Newark sent two boys to the state meet, John Radu and Bill Fleitz, both in the pole vault.

During the annual Newark Relays, Newark set a new record in the shuttle-relay. It was run in the fastest recorded time in the state.

C. O. L. Meet

Newark won its twelfth consecutive C.O.L. Championship Wednesday, May 9, 1945. Nine out of fourteen first places were captured by Newark. Marietta, taking four first places, afforded closest competition. Harold Brown of Marietta broke the only record, running the 880-yard dash in two minutes, six and one-tenth seconds, to clip off two-tenths of a second from the previous time set by Dorsey of Newark in 1939.

Newark Relays

The sixth Newark Annual Relays, held at White's Field on Saturday, May 5, 1944, were won by Columbus East to give that school two titles in the last three years. Three records were broken and one tied with East taking the honors in 880-yard dash record. Newark broke Youngstown Boardman's record in the shuttle relay, and Ashville set a new record in the high jump. Fred Johnson of East and Ivan Wallington of Mansfield were the individual stars of the meet, each scoring 13½ points. Fifteen teams broke into the scoring column with Newark taking fifth place.

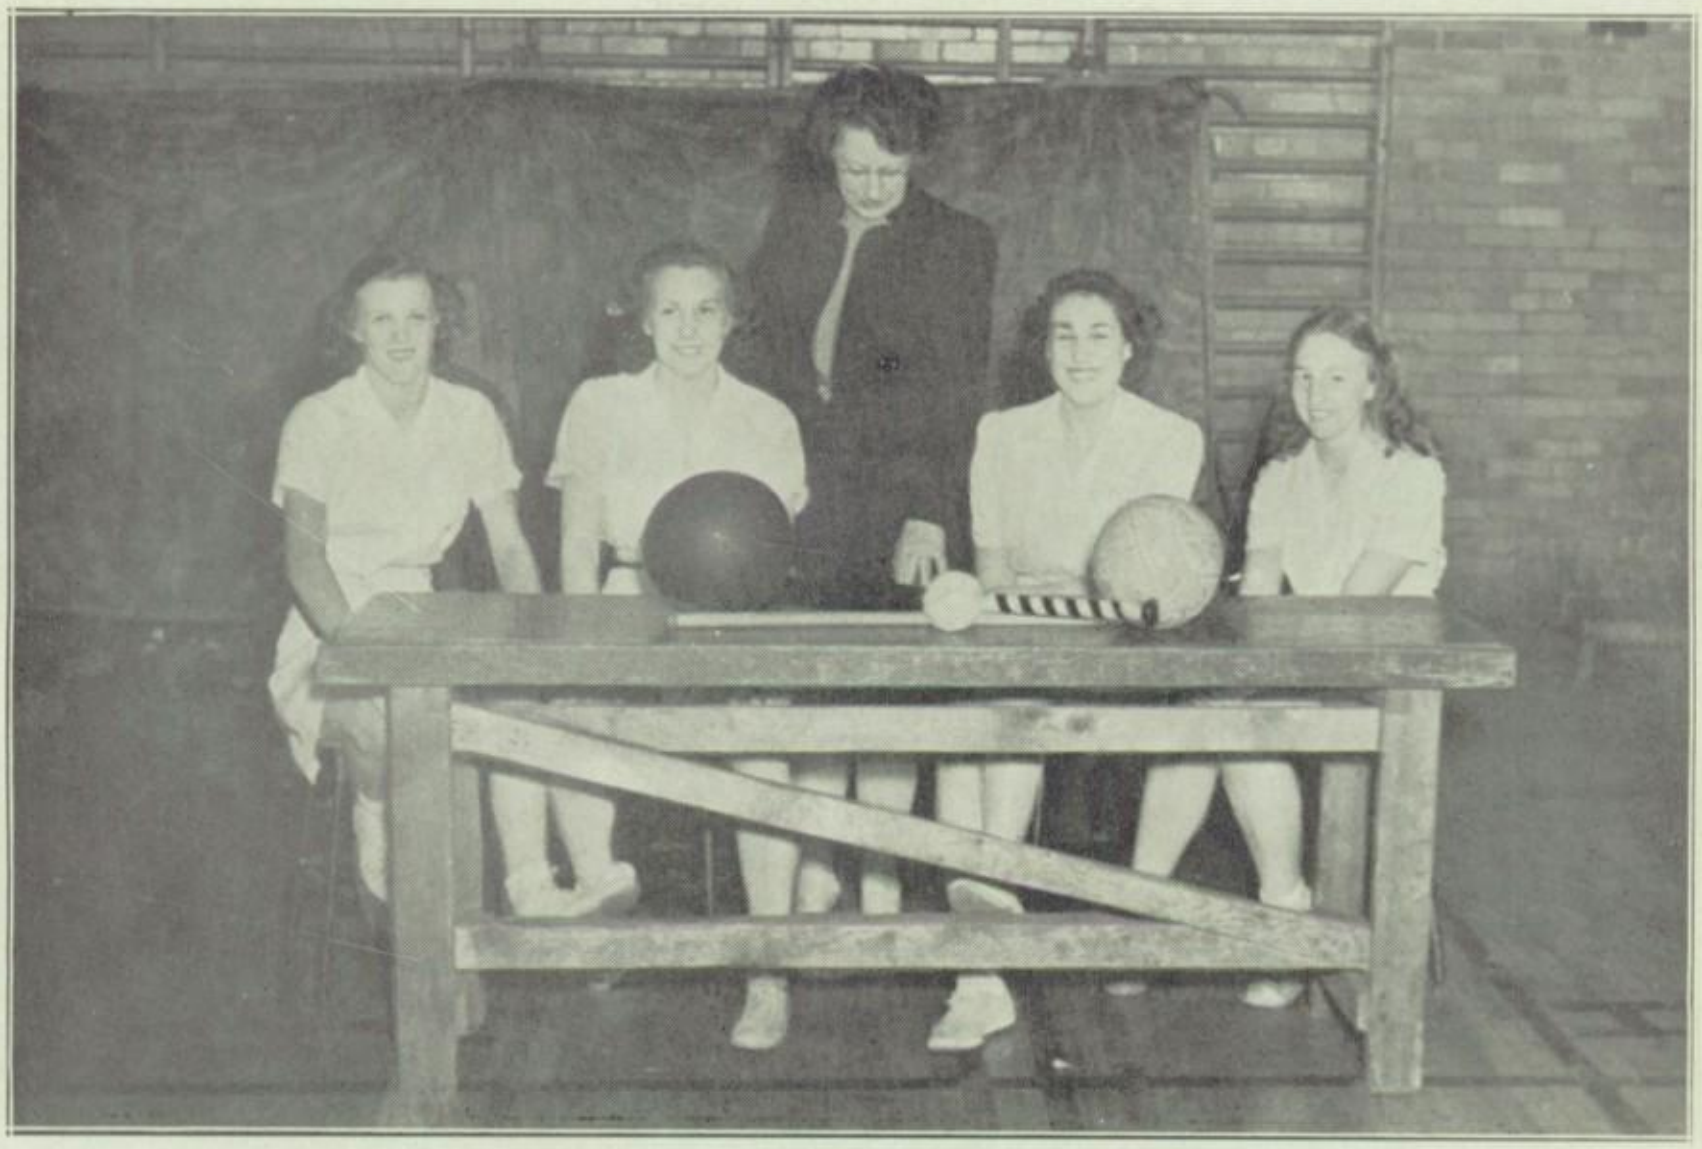
This was the second year of competition for the squad and it proved to be a successful season.

Newark's two-milers won one dual meet and lost one. They defeated Mansfield here at Newark but were defeated by Columbus West by one point at Columbus.

To spice the program further, there were several intra-squad meets during the season.

Newark won a second place in the District Meet in Springfield. They also were selected to go to the state meet where as a team they received tenth place.

Girls' Athletic Council



Phyllis Webb, Esther English, Miss Myer, Nancy Ferguson, Jerry Feldner.

The Girls' Athletic Council was organized again for the fourth year. The main purpose of this organization is to administer all the games. It decides all the policies to be carried out in girls' sports, and it sees that the intramural games function properly. The chairman this year is Jerry Feldner.

The other members and their respective duties are Phyllis Webb, scoring; Esther English, secretary; Nancy Ferguson, scoring.

The desire of this council is that the organization might continue in the future.
